WISCONSIN TROOPS MUTINY;
DEMAND TO QUIT RUSSIA.Company Refuses to Return to Front Till Assured the Withdrawal of Americans is Ordered.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The War Department's paraphrase of the Archangel message follows:

Yesterday morning, March 30, a company of infantry, having received orders to go to the railroad front, was ordered out of barracks for the purpose of packing sleds for the trip across the river to the railroad station.

The noncommissioned officer who was in charge of the company reported to the officers that the men refused to go. At this, some of the officers took charge and all except one man began reluctantly to pack after a considerable delay. The soldier who continued to refuse was placed in confinement. Col. Stewart, having been sent for, arrived and talked with the men.

On the condition that the prisoner above mentioned was released, the men agreed to go. This was done and the company proceeded to the railway station and entrained there for the front.

That they would not go to the front-line positions was openly stated by the men, however, and they would only go to Cherepovets. They also stated that general mutiny would soon ensue if there was not some definite statement forthcoming from Washington with regard to the removal of American troops from Russia at the earliest possible date.

On the condition that the prisoner above mentioned was released, the men agreed to go. This was done and the company proceeded to the railway station and entrained there for the front.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The War Department issued tonight an order confirming Associated Press advice from Archangel that an account to a mutiny occurred among the American troops at Archangel. A company of infantry, the message stated, refused to go to the front until personally urged to do so by Col. George E. Stewart, commanding the American contingent. Open threats were made against mutiny unless a definite statement from Washington insuring withdrawal was forthcoming.

The text of the paraphrase of the code message, dated March 31, was given by the department after it had eliminated only the identification company and certain military information not bearing on the mutiny.

The department has called for information from the mutinying troops today officials were to ascertain whether a mutiny had in fact taken place. The message stated that the men refused to go to the front until personally urged to do so by Col. George E. Stewart, commanding the American contingent. Open threats were made against mutiny unless a definite statement from Washington insuring withdrawal was forthcoming.

FLEET MAKES FRIENDS OF SOUTH AMERICANS.ADMIRAL CAPERTON PRAISES RECEPTION GIVEN TO THE CRUISER SQUADRON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 10.—Officers and men of the cruiser squadron under Admiral William B. Caperton, U.S.N., which arrived here early this week, after more than a year in South American waters, established a firm friendship with the authorities and people of Guatemala, Brazil, Uruguay and Argentina, according to the belief expressed today by officers aboard the flagship Pittsburgh. The reception accorded the fleet, it was said, was the forerunner of an increasing commercial development between the United States and the South American countries.

There is nothing that I can say which will overstate my regard for my friends in South America, Admiral Caperton said. "Everywhere we went we were received with exceptional kindness and this sentiment applied, not only to the officers of the squadron, but to every man on board the ships."

The cruiser squadron, which was part of the Pacific fleet, left its base off the California coast in May, 1917, for the purpose of assisting in the Allied plan of protective control in South American waters.

WILSON ENDS INMAN'S JAP-BAITING

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Senator Inman this afternoon withdrew his anti-Japanese land-leasing and immigration resolution reciting that "we earnestly petition the President on the oriental immigration question as shall make future legislation subjects unnecessary."

The senator's withdrawal of the anti-Japanese agitation, which opened a week ago with a flourish of trumpets and closed with a whimper, was a direct result of the effect that "in view of the present situation in international affairs here in Paris it would be unwise to introduce or press at the present time."

Aliens Leave with Coin.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Enriched by war work, aliens are leaving this country at the rate of more than 1000 a day, it was learned here today from customs officials, who expressed fear that with the possibility of the reopening of commercial relations for the next four years, the United States will face a serious labor shortage. Instead of a condition of unemployment.

Since the signing of the armistice, it was said, Italians, Greeks, Spaniards and Portuguese have been pouring out of the United States through this port. Since November 1, 74,231 passports have been issued at the customhouse and since December 23, 98,000 aliens have sailed.

Custom officials estimate that an enormous sum has been taken out of the country since the exodus began. Each alien, it is said, carries with him from $1000 to $7000 in cashable money to live in his native land and in greater case than he ever enjoyed before. Since April 2, when all outgoing passengers were forced to pay their income taxes before leaving, more than $55,000 has been collected.

CREDIT OF U STATE HIT.Governor Warns of Limit to Funds.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, April 10.—A warning against "jeopardizing the financial integrity of the State," was given the Legislature today by Gov. Stephens in a message urging "the necessity of making our contemplated State disbursements measure to the standards of safety."

The message said bills providing for large additional appropriations for orphan aid and for elementary schools, would, if they were enacted, "leave a surplus of but $1,228,123."

"We reach the danger point when the State's surplus drops below $2,000,000," the Governor said. "I appreciate fully that all revenue measures are properly matters of legislative origin," the message said, "nevertheless when they come up for executive action, the legal duty devolves upon me also of protecting the financial resources of the State against excessive drains."

The message was sent to the Legislature when the Senate had before it a concurrent resolution by Senator Stephens providing for a legislative investigation of the State's finances, and while the Assembly was considering the general appropriations bill which it passed late today.

"I think the Governor's message has explained the need for this resolution," Senator King said in explaining the purpose of his resolution, which was adopted by the Senate.

"We are facing a financial crisis. We have been sitting on a volcano, but did not realize the fact until a few days after we had the orphan's bill under consideration in committee."

The State's revenue must be investigated. It would be the duty of this committee to go into the sources and also to recommend new sources.

REPORT IN 1921.

The resolution provided that the findings should be reported to the session of the Legislature in 1921. It would come up in the Assembly for action probably early next week.

The Governor's message was referred to the Senate Finance and the Assembly Ways and Means committees.

The General Appropriations Bill passed by the Assembly and sent to the Senate carried a total of $19,112,000,000, of which $1,000,000,000 was for the support of the State's institutions.

There are many meritorious appropriation measures before you," the Governor's message said, "there is a limit to the State's ability to pay."

POINTS OUT DANGER.

"It would be extremely dangerous, at this time, to permit the surplus to go below a figure deemed a minimum of safety."

The Governor called attention to the report of State fiscal officers showing there would be available above budget demands a surplus of $4,608,316.34.

This would be the maximum sum available over and above budgeted demands," the Governor said. "But financial wisdom and experience has shown that $2,000,000 is the lower safe point to which the surplus of the treasury should go, and when below $2,000,000 we reach the danger point."

TAX INCREASE BARRED.

"It is impracticable, perhaps legally impossible at this time to think of raising the tax rate. Grave legal questions must arise if at this late date we go back to a study and without fair and equitable adjustment of tax burdens, the rate is attempted to be hastily or arbitrarily raised."

The message pointed out that normal increases were allowed for the support of the State's educational system of the State.

At the present time there appears a disposition to go far beyond these normal increases, the message added. "With no desire to reflect in the least upon the inherent merit of the bill, I nevertheless feel it my duty to call attention to the fact that such additional appropriation must be limited by the amount of funds properly available."

$2,000,000 BOOST.

The Governor said that the commission on the State's finances.

PARIS, Friday, April 11.—Geneva, Switzerland, has been chosen as the seat of the League of Nations, according to announcement here.

At the meeting of the Commission on a League of Nations, ten sections of the covenant were considered and passed. The Japanese amendment was not reached and the actual text of the section exempting the Monroe Doctrine from the provisions of the covenant of the League of Nations is not yet available.

American commissioners stated, however, that the doctrine was definitely named in the provision guaranteeing that it will not be affected by the terms in the covenant. Another meeting will be held tonight, when it is hoped that the work will be completed.

The adoption of the section exempting the Monroe Doctrine was the only real exemption made during the meeting last night. President Wilson offered the amendment and made a plea for it, saying that he believed the doctrine was protected under the terms of the covenant as they stood, but because of the demands for specific exemption, he felt it imperative that the amendment should be added. There was some adverse argument, but the amendment was adopted without prolonged opposition.

PARIS, April 10.—The League of Nations Commission adopted tonight a new section to the covenant specifically providing that the Monroe Doctrine is not to be affected by the provisions of the covenant.

The Monroe Doctrine amendment was prepared by Col. House.

SECRET PACT WITH CHINA DENIED.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 10.—A re-assertion as valid. Under the terms of the treaty, the Tokyo story states, the United States is allowed to establish consulates on the Chinese coast; to build warships which are to be manned by Chinese under American officers as instructors.

The report amazed officials of the State Department, who had no knowledge of any such treaty or agreement, and a careful search of the department files failed to disclose any document that could even suggest such an agreement.

It was found there was an agreement, in no way or at any time secret, by which many years ago certain syndicates of the United States were permitted to construct commercial vessels in Chinese shipyards for Chinese trade. The agreement was never taken advantage of and lapsed some years ago by limitation.

WANT END TO SECRECY AT PARIS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, April 10.—The plenary session of the Peace Conference tomorrow for the consideration of the labor report is awaited with much interest because of the dissatisfaction existing among the smaller nations. It is believed that there may be interpellations concerning the secrecy with which the big four are surrounding their negotiations. It is believed that the people of the smaller nations are to be disappointed at being kept in the dark. The labor report is to be presented far open discussion and consequently there will be opportunity for general debate unless steps are taken to prevent it.

The council of four is strongly opposed to official publication of the peace treaty before its submission to the Germans. It maintains that it is allowing peace decisions to be announced and that consequently the public will be advised on all the main points before the treaty is signed. This piecemeal and incomplete publication is unsatisfactory to many of the delegates, who are urging that the people of the Allied countries should have the text of the peace treaty from the officials before the Germans announce it with their interpretations.

ENGLAND FACES
NEW ELECTIONS.Lloyd George Threatens to Appeal to Country.Political Crisis Impends in Great Britain.Demand for Hun Punishment is Insistent.

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

LONDON, April 10.—Great Britain faces a more or less immediate Parliamentary crisis. Lloyd George's threat to appeal to the country sent by long-distance telephone from Paris is taken much more seriously today than it was on its delivery last night. It was in answer to a telegram signed by 216 members of the House of Commons—much more than a majority—demanding that the Premier make out a bill against Germany for the full cost of the war, compel the German government to acknowledge, and not till then discuss ways and means for its payment.

It is thought in well informed quarters that when the fighting Premier returns to London, next week, to make his long promised statement on the peace terms to the House, he may face the crisis at once. There is more than one direction in which Lloyd George is finding it hard to drive his huge coalition majority, and he may prefer to make a fight on the issue of the German peace terms rather than on others not yet so close to the surface.

It is not forgotten that the two battle crises with which Lloyd George swept his present teaparty Commons into power were "Lloyd George" and "Lloyd George." Perhaps four-fifths of the members are pledged to their constituents to make good on these promises. Lloyd George is not a man who breaks his word.

Mr. Lloyd George, with his perhaps unrivaled powers of eloquence and persuasion, may feel it quite possible to convince the people that he has done the best possible along these lines. If he so concludes, Great Britain may have another general election for members of Parliament within the next sixty or ninety days.

One does not take Horatio Bottomley and his weekly paper, John Bull, too seriously, but Bottomley is a member of Parliament and is often well informed on political matters. The current issue of John Bull outlines in a fairly long article the reasons why he thinks the crisis is near.

One danger which he says the government faces is that of possible disaster to the British forces at Arras.

"Should a calamity occur," he said, "and you must be prepared for it—the government would topple over like a pack of cards."

But more immediate and even more dangerous, as Bottomley sees it, is the attitude of the great labor unions who have announced their intention of calling a general strike if the new military service bill which Secretary of War Winston Churchill is pushing through Parliament, is put into effect. Under this bill the period of service for men now conscripted is extended for another year.

CHARGE PLEDGES BROKEN. Labor charges that this is a violation of the Premier's election pledge that conscription should be abolished after the war. The strike appeals are backed chiefly by members of the triple alliance of railway men, miners and transport workers. Their feeling against the bill was strengthened by a speech made for the government in the House of Lords the other evening by Lord Curzon, who declared gravely that the clouds of war were by no means all cleared away and that the horizon was still dark with menace.

Within recent weeks the Harrow papers have been consistently and savagely attacking Premier Lloyd George, occasionally assisted by Lord Beaverbrook's paper, the Express. This week the New Witness, edited by Gilbert Chesterton, furiously criticizes the Premier because the Peace Conference has refused to give Pundig to Poland.

Almost daily the chorus of complaint and chiding grows louder. This afternoon Christabel Pankhurst, running for Parliament in the Westminster division, told an audience which packed a downtown theater that Lloyd George must quickly choose whether he would support the people who had won the war or the minority of Bolsheviks who were chief comforters in all the world was President Woodrow Wilson. If the Premier actually comes home from Paris next week and addresses the House of Commons, particularly the situation created by the failure of appropriation bills and the necessity for calling an extra session of Congress.

ECONOMIC RUIN

would perpetrate the most monstrous injustice in history, and in addition would involve our ruin," M. Cherm declares.

DEMAND GUARANTEES. "In addition to pecuniary reparations," continues the writer, "there is moral reparation. It is true that there are voices raised against the infliction of a judicial penalty to be inflicted upon the wretched ex-Emperor William, who knowingly was the author of the death of so many millions of human beings, but public opinion demands a guarantee against a renewal of the crime.

"President Wilson once proclaimed our frontiers those of humanity itself. They must then be made inviolable."

The publication in Paris today of a statement attributed to British sources to the effect that the terms of the peace treaty would not be presented by session of the Peace Conference until after they had been communicated to the delegates of the nations not present on the council of four.

The publication brought out from the American press the statement that it was opposed to such a plan. The Armenian delegation to the Peace Conference has received a telegram from Transcaucasia saying that the Armenian population there is threatened seriously by Muslim and Persian forces, who have disarmed the Armenians and proclaimed a new government in Azerbaijan. The telegram asks the delegation to implore the Allies to take measures to avoid revolution and bloodshed in Transcaucasia.

President Wilson and Mrs. Wilson, and Rear-Admiral Grayson, his physician, called upon Queen Marie of Rumania at her temporary residence here before this morning's session of the council of four.

WILSON "HAMMERING AHEAD." WASHINGTON, April 10.—President Wilson is "hammering ahead" and has made "good progress" in his negotiations in Paris, according to advice received today at the White House.

It was not stated just what progress had been made, but the advice seemed to cause considerable satisfaction in official quarters.

HOME AFFAIRS
HOLD WILSON.President Considers Situation in United States.May Call Extra Session and Remain in Paris.His Presence in Washington is not Essential.

PARIS, April 10.—While the sessions of the council of four are occupying the chief attention of President Wilson yet, those close to the President who have seen him in recent days say he is giving serious consideration to the condition of public affairs in the United States, particularly the situation created by the failure of appropriation bills and the necessity for calling an extra session of Congress.

It is known that some of the President's advisers are of the opinion that a call should be issued at very early date, so as to permit the new Congress to assemble in perfect organization by June 1 and complete the appropriation bills before the end of the fiscal year. Should this prevail it would require an early call in order to permit the usual period for assembling, but it is not known that it will prevail, for while the President is listening to these counsels, he has given no indication of the course he intends to pursue.

MAY ISSUE CALL IN PARIS. The fact that the United States transport George Washington has been ordered to proceed to Brest has given rise to the suggestion that it was the situation at home, rather than in Europe, which might require the early return of President Wilson to America.

But, according to the view of those in the confidence of the President, his physical presence in Washington is not essential to the meeting of Congress or until the end of June, when the appropriation bills will be ready for assembling, but it is contended that the call for an extra session can be issued here and the work of the new Congress can proceed without the President's attendance.

DEPENDS ON PEACE PROGRESS. The final decision depends largely on the progress of the Peace Conference, as the situation at Washington and Paris are so linked together that they are more or less dependent also. The two men were said to be in the confidence of the President.

President Wilson attended the morning and afternoon sessions of the council today. The council had under consideration the remaining details of the Saar settlement and the Rhine frontier.

There were reports that the Italians were disposed to accept the plan for the Adriatic settlement, which had been previously discussed in the morning.

Should this compromise be effected, it would remove one of the last large obstacles to the consummation of the treaty, though many lesser subjects still remain open.

CENSORSHIP OFF TODAY. WASHINGTON, April 10.—Removal of censorship regulations on normally routed cablegrams between points in the United States and its possessions and Japan and China, effective tomorrow, was announced today by the chief censor of the Navy Department. The regulations will continue in force, however, on cablegrams to, from and passing through Hongkong, the British censorship at that port not yet having been lifted.

BLACKSMITHS NOT TO STRIKE. INDIANAPOLIS, April 10.—Organized union blacksmiths and helpers in the United States will not join in any nationwide strike in protest against the prohibition law according to a resolution adopted at the convention of the American National Brotherhood of Blacksmiths and Helpers here today.

ians ing Island

at 9:15 in the morning and reach Catalina time for luncheon.

Catalina is incomparable, imposing, and captivating—the one thing of its kind.

Unmatched Interest

Here are the famous Ocean Gardens, seen through glass-bottom steamers, and fish of every hue—red, gold, blue, and spotted, swimming through green waving sea foliage and mosses.

Also scores of seals in their native haunts, old seals and young seals, the most graceful swimmers in the world—climbing and playing off great rocks.

Grown-ups are absorbed by these things, little folks are delighted.

World-Famous Fishing

The waters around Catalina are considered as the greatest in the world. Rarely seen clawfish are abundant here. Leaping Tuna, the Yellowtail, the Yellowtail, and the Albacore are only a few of the "sporty" fish that make mention of Catalina bring fire to the eyes of the true fisherman.

Outdoor sports abound on the island. Bring your golf clubs and play a round on the Catalina course.

Tennis, sailing, fishing and camping, and not golfing or sightseeing, will fill a few many days.

Or you may come here to rest, and find cluded coves and canyons filled with the laxing, quieting sea air.

Whatever you do, your experience at Catalina will be one that you won't soon forget.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

WATTS, April 11.—Voting for school bonds amounting to $20,000 at a special election to be held one week from today, April 13, is an issue brought before the people to decide whether there is a need of a new four-room school building and general repairs on the three existing schools now in use, as claimed by the school board and the principal of the schools, C. HIS WIFE "DRIVE"

TAKES ON MOMENTUM.

LONESOME HARBOR MAN NOW UP AGAINST PROBLEM OF MAKING A SELECTION.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

SANTA ANA, April 10.—When the Lonely Man of San Pedro started a "drive" for a wife he started something and now may have a hard job picking the right person to relieve his lonesomeness. To date over a dozen applications for the man's name have been received by County Clerk J. M. Backs, to whom the Lonely Man recently wrote for assistance in his quest for a wife. Apparently Santa Monica Beach is something of a lonesome place itself, for three women there have written for the Lonely Man's name and address. One letter is from Upland, another from San Bernardino, and several are from Los Angeles, one woman offering to give the name of a lonesome friend in Salt Lake. Then there was one personal visit from a young woman who asked the man's name "for her mother." One letter gives directions for the Lonely Man to get in touch with San Pedro young women who might in time develop into lifelong companions.

"I love California—think it is the most beautiful spot on earth. I would say it was next to heaven, but when, oh, when are the men, and how can we meet them? I mean a good man, not a perfect one," one Los Angeles widow, aged 49, without children or home, writes. "I see that a lonely San Pedro man is about to conduct a drive for a wife. Why can't a lonely woman ask the same privileges? Am so lonely for a good companion, or in other words a good pal. A splendid cook and housekeeper. Backs is withholding all names, including that of Mr. Lonesome, from the public, but from the way applications are pouring in it is believed wedding bells soon may cure two people's lonesomeness.

HERO OF WAR IS VICTIM OF AUTO.

Son of Rich St. Louis Family Killed at Santa Barbara.

Machine Plunged from Bluff to Bed of Railroad.

Sergt. Sterling Peabody had Distinguished Record.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
SANTA BARBARA, April 10.—Sergt. Sterling M. Peabody of St. Louis, son of one of the wealthiest and oldest families in that city, lies in a morgue here tonight, victim of a sensational automobile accident.

A machine which he had taken from in front of a theater, planning to drive to the home of a friend in Goleta, plunged from a bluff while being driven at great speed and hurtled seventy-five feet through the air to the railroad bed at the overhead crossing on the State highway just south of Naples.

Mr. Peabody had fought with the American forces in France, being twice wounded in the Argonne Forest drive. He enlisted when 19, two years ago, in St. Louis, giving his age as 21.

For Colds, Catarrh or Influenza.

Do you feel weak and unequal to the work ahead of you? Do you still cough a little, or does your nose bother you? Are you pale? Is your blood thin and watery? Better put your body into shape. Build strong! Now's the time.

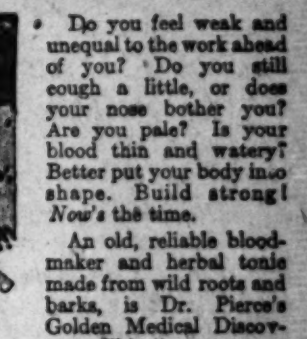

An old, reliable blood-maker and herbal tonic made from wild roots and herbs, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This "nature remedy" comes in tablet or liquid form.

It will build up your body, cure your cold, and protect you from disease germs which lurk everywhere. One of the active ingredients of this temperance alterative and tonic is wild cherry bark with stillingia, which is so good for the lungs and for coughs; also Oregon grape root, blood root, stone root, Queen's root—all skillfully combined in the Medical Discovery. These roots have a direct action on the stomach, improving digestion and assimilation. These herbal extracts in the "Discovery" aid in blood-making, and are best for scrofula. By improving the blood they aid in throwing off an attack of influenza and act as oil on machinery.

Catarrh should be treated, first as a blood disease, with this alternative; then, in addition, the nose should be washed daily with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy which can be had at drug stores.

Los Angeles, Cal.—"I will gladly tell of the relief and cure Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery gave me. I was sick with all troubles of stomach, liver, etc., and La Grippe with all its attending ailments. When all else failed Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery did the good work. I also took 'Pleasant Pellets' for biliousness, with grand success. I write with gratitude to tell others of the relief that is in store for them. Do not delay but hasten to get the above remedies if suffering from any indisposition."—Samuel Kalisky, 978 Euclid Ave.

SELECT JUMPING OFF SPOT FOR SEA FLIGHT.

NAME OF PLACE CHOSEN TO START TRANSATLANTIC VOYAGE IS WITHHELD.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WORK.)
WASHINGTON, April 10.—Having completed its course along the North Atlantic Coast to Newfoundland to observe possible landing places for the naval seaplanes during the first leg of its trans-Atlantic flight next month, the destroyer Barney has started for home.

The name of the port in Newfoundland visited by the Barney was not made known by the Navy Department, Acting Secretary Roosevelt saying today that it was one heard of only rarely. While the destroyer visited only one place in Newfoundland, it is understood that Commander Belknap and Lieut. Stone went by land to several other points to determine which would be the best as a "jumping off" place for the seaplanes when they start overseas.

PICKS WOOD OR KNOX AS G.O.P. CANDIDATE.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
PITTSBURGH, April 10.—Henry Clay Frick, steel king, railroad magnate and financier, who has been here for a couple of days, left for his New York home tonight after expressing the opinion that either Senator Philander C. Knox or Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood would make good Presidential timber for the Republicans. He said he believed in the League of Nations, but thought that the matter of peace conditions should be first attended to. He expressed himself as hoping that it would not be long until the government returns the railroads to their owners. He is a heavy stockholder in the Pennsylvania Railroad and said that it is urgent that necessary legislation be promulgated whereby the roads would revert back to their owners.

OFT-DEFEATED MAN'S WINNER.

Persistence is Rewarded in Palo Verde Land Case.

Loses Many Times, He Finally is Victor on Appeal.

Efforts Ran Gamut from Law to Violence.

A dispute between William B. Edwards and Patrick H. Bodkin for the possession of a quarter section of land in the Palo Verde Valley, near Blythe, that has taken its weary course from the local Land Office to the General Commissioner of the Land Office and the Secretary of the Interior, not to count various appearances in the United States District Court and the United States Circuit Court of Appeal, has been settled again.

Yesterday United States District Judge Trippet handed down a decision in favor of Edwards, and canceling the patent issued to Bodkin. The judgment will be appealed, for it is said that the 160 acres of land involved is one of the most valuable in the valley. The hearing before Judge Trippet followed an opinion of the United States Circuit Court of Appeal, reversing the judgment of Judge Edwards without leave to amend.

The case is one of the most sensational ever instituted in the valley.

Edwards and Bodkin lost his various appeals to the Department of the Interior, he became very angry, it is said, and sought to harass Bodkin in his enjoyment of the property. Complaints were made to United States District Attorney A. I. McCormick, that Edwards and about a dozen of his friends were terrorizing the community and trying to drive Bodkin out of the country.

The arrest of Edwards and six other of his friends followed, on the charge that they were trying to deprive Bodkin of his constitutional rights. After a long trial, Edwards and one of the other defendants were convicted and sentenced to a term in the Riverside County Jail.

with a fine. The terms were served.

No sooner was Edwards out of jail than he again began his fight for the land, but this time through the courts. The judgments of the Federal courts were against Edwards, as a rule, but he never quit, and just as everybody about the Federal courts supposed that the famous case of Edwards vs. Bodkin had at last been finally disposed of it would appear again, in some form, with Edwards as his own lawyer, seeking what he considered justice in the interpretation of the land laws.

THE NEW.

IN STORES AND HOMES.

NOVELTIES, IDEAS AND PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS.

By Olive Gray.

Up-to-date:
Broad-brimmed hats of organdy, which are most lovely for wear with dainty summer frocks.

First lace for all feminine undergarments, such as trimming camisoles, edging petticoats and embellishing other lingerie.

To compose the summer hat with anything you wish, even to velvet and feathers, heretofore associated in the modish mind with wintry headgear. Millinery is rapidly abolishing seasons in its choice of materials, and I believe the time will come when a truly handsome hat will be held along indefinitely, and as a fashion dictator, regardless of the calendar.

Fine flannel shirts for men. Neutral grounds form the basis for brilliant and beautiful colored stripes. Stiff linen collars with neck and front with these chic stripes, completed by a scarf as brilliant as the high tones in the silk stripes of the shirts.

Now is the time to buy:
The Easter Sundaying clothes. Whether Easter is really a clothes event with you, or not, it is a good time to mark down on your calendar as the date for completing the spring wardrobe.

Shoes for several spring occasions. Even though skirts come down in length, the shoes must be as trim and as proper as when the short skirt exposed the foot to its utmost height.

Filet laces, in that sale where they are surprisingly inexpensive. The household needs, in that all-settled place which is revealing and revealing in its new and splendid home.

Where to Beach.
Those new beach scarfs are smart, are beautiful—but why wear them on the beach in Seventh street, or on the Broadway strand? That's the trouble with us, we like a garment or an accessory we don't it Monday morning and deposit it until Santa Monica school broke. The board of the swing struck her on the head inflicting a two-inch laceration.

FOR STORYTELLERS' LEAGUE.
The regular meeting of the Storytellers' League will be held on the tenth floor of the Metropolitan Building, at 4 o'clock this afternoon. There will be a programme of Italian stories by Prof. G. Andreini.

Easter Sundaying.
Easter is really more fun than Christmas, when it comes to the question of the Metropolitan Building, at 4 o'clock this afternoon. There will be a programme of Italian stories by Prof. G. Andreini.

Sharp men are those who get the most for their money—and legitimately, this may be done, especially when they get the greatest number of shaves from a single razor blade. The man, selling the wonderful blade-sharper, in our city, tells me that a hundred shaves may be had from one blade, if that sharper is used! Why, it does not take a mathematician to figure out the saving there! It seems that blades sharpened in other ways, can be used but a few times. The little machine, without us, even in the fashioning of their clothes! Although men's modes claim to have descended from army and from navy—still they come to us for fads.

Where Men's Fashion's are Parked.
The spring fashion of men's clothes, on Spring street, in that store which carries the line so happily displayed as to attract more than passing attention, is just now especially handsome. Elaborate backgrounds depicting park scenes, offset the new mode for men: white, just inside the door, beyond that commodious street arcade, a stand piled high with the day book called "The Man," invites him to become informed as to the "latest wrinkle" of the way, one "wrinkle" noticeable even to the feminine eye, is that incorporated in the coat called the Gamel. It of a gathered panel over the hip—quite novel and much resembling our tunic. You see, men cannot do without us, even in the fashioning of their clothes! Although men's modes claim to have descended from army and from navy—still they come to us for fads.

Filet Laces.
The spring fashion of men's clothes, on Spring street, in that store which carries the line so happily displayed as to attract more than passing attention, is just now especially handsome. Elaborate backgrounds depicting park scenes, offset the new mode for men: white, just inside the door, beyond that commodious street arcade, a stand piled high with the day book called "The Man," invites him to become informed as to the "latest wrinkle" of the way, one "wrinkle" noticeable even to the feminine eye, is that incorporated in the coat called the Gamel. It of a gathered panel over the hip—quite novel and much resembling our tunic. You see, men cannot do without us, even in the fashioning of their clothes! Although men's modes claim to have descended from army and from navy—still they come to us for fads.

One A-penny Two A-penny.
Hot cross buns! Could Easter really be Easter without hot cross buns? Possibly, but why experiment?

Surprised.
We stole from out that Book of Table Tips—not yet voted out by the anti-spiritualist squad—the following recipe for an Easter dessert. Place upon a plate, thinly cut slices of white cake. In the center of this cake, which should be irregular in shape, put half of a preserved peach, and around the back of it, surround with whipped cream, allowing the peach to emerge through the creamy fluff. Edge the outer "rim" of this "ring" with chocolate, to look as though browned in frying, and you will have a dessert that will surprise the Easter guest.

Timed Cheese.
You know how provoking it is when you want a nice nippy little lunch, to find that there is no cheese, or that the long kept piece is over-mouldy. The new way—cheese in tins—does away with the possibility of that cheeseless disappointment. They say it keeps "forever." So, here's one more attractive addition to the ever-readiness of the emergency shelf.

In Fashion's Foreground.
Narrow dainty cuffs are admirably worn with close long sleeves. A panel housing in the back is a feature on some of the new coats. The wide brimmed sailor is the smartest sailor of any fashion world. A seemingly permanent style is the belted suit coat with a waistcoat.

Soft white laces embroidered in silver are favored for evening wear. The latest coat is a combination of a tight scant skirt and a full, loose top.

For effectiveness is a string of graduated pearls worn with a simple frock.

Raglan and kimono sleeves appear on coats as often as the set-in variety.

The continued slim silhouette means that collars will be small but exquisite.

Black, brown and silver embroidery are charmingly used on black satin coats.

Worn as a hat, the hairpins are fashioned of silver and thickly set with precious stones.

A novel kimono sleeve as full to the elbow then becomes a cuff, reaching to the wrist.

A surplus chemise of rose-colored voile has neck and front outlined with puffed bands of white. Striped and blocked tricotette is charmingly worn as a sleeveless blouse over a skirt of plain color.

Seven ruffles of black tulle form the skirt of an afternoon frock, which begins with a bodice of black velvet.

Eyebow work embroidery, self-colored, is one of the most refined forms of ornamentation on cloth frocks.

One of the prettiest bodice styles shows a flat bodice with wide shoulders which go around to the back and tie there.

JEWELRY GOES EAST.
Louis S. Nordlinger, president of S. Nordlinger & Sons, jewelers and diamond merchants, left yesterday for New York on an important buying trip. "I understand that never before has there been such a tremendous demand for magnificent jewelry creations," Mr. Nordlinger said. "This may be an after effect of the great war-time prosperity. It is our intention to secure the best that the markets afford for our large and ever increasing patronage."

LINK TRIO WITH MURDER PUZZLE

Arrest of Auto Bandits may Supply Key to Killing.

Empty Shotgun Shells Clew to Black Hand Case.

Threats are Told by Police as Result of Inquiry.

Writing what may be the last chapter in the history of the "Dersch" gang of automobile bandits, which operated in this city for many months, the police yesterday arrested Edward Dersch, the youngest of the three Dersch boys. Although the arrest of Edward Dersch ends the operations of the gang, the police declare that a new angle in the cases against the brothers has been uncovered, and that charges of murder, as well as grand larceny, may be placed against the three men.

Following the arrest of Edward Dersch, in San Francisco, when he attempted to sell an automobile stolen in this city from a Japanese, Police Detectives Erven and Hickok, now attached to the Auto Club of Southern California, announced that since the arrest of Otto Dersch, March 2, they have been working to connect the Dersch gang with the Italian Black Handers who shot and killed Mike Rizzo, alias Mike Morino, an Italian fruit merchant and Black Hand suspect.

DROVE DEATH CAR? The three Dersch boys, according to the two detectives, were the drivers of the murder car, which they are said to have stolen in San Francisco. Following the killing, the driver left the stolen machine standing near the outskirts of the city. The car was later recovered and three shotgun shells, all exploded, found in the machine. The shooting was done with a sawed-off shotgun.

A number of telephone calls have been received by Detectives Erven and Hickok at Central Police Station, from an Italian woman who refused to give her name, but who stated that if the investigation of the murder-car drivers was continued the two detectives would be shot. A house in the Italian settlement on the East Side of the city, where the murder plots and automobile thefts are said to have been planned, is under investigation.

A central clearinghouse for stolen automobiles and the stolen goods which the murder cars are said to have started with their load of Black Handers armed with shotguns, has been discovered, the police say. Scores of stolen automobiles, according to Detectives Erven and Hickok, have passed through the "clearinghouse" here and then taken to San Francisco and other northern cities and sold. The automobile, which was seized yesterday when Edward Dersch was arrested, the police say, was hidden away for several days at this "clearinghouse."

VENGEANCE FEARED. Working with only the empty shotgun shells found in the Rizzo murder car, the four detectives discovered that Otto Dersch was related by marriage to an Italian family. The family was investigated and did not contest the fact because all the persons questioned declared that if they were to give information they would be killed. The police then attempted to discover where the shotguns used by the murderers were purchased, but again failed.

Otto Dersch, since his arrest, has been bound over to Superior Court on a charge of grand larceny. The police state that he has served several terms in prison and has records in many Eastern States. William Dersch, the third of the three brothers to be arrested, is now serving a term of from one to ten years for grand larceny. If evidence sufficient to charge Edward with murder can not be secured, he will be tried for grand larceny.

Police detectives late yesterday left for San Francisco, armed with a complaint charging Edward Dersch with the theft of the automobile seized at the time his arrest. Mrs. Palmer, who is said to have information that the shotguns used by the murderers were purchased, but again failed.

NURSE ATTEMPTS SUICIDE. "C. E. Farris, a trained nurse living at 1121 South Figueroa street, made an ineffectual attempt to commit suicide early last night when in a fit of despondency he swallowed a small quantity of cyanide. His act was observed by his landlady, Mrs. E. F. Rowe, who immediately notified the Receiving Hospital where Farris was given emergency treatment. He has a fair chance of recovery.

DECORATE FOR "SEVENTH." Mayor Woodman yesterday issued a proclamation calling on the citizens to make a most liberal decoration of stores and buildings in honor of the One Hundred and Sixtieth anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. The troops will reach San Bernardino at 10 a. m. today via the Salt Lake Route and remain there till midnight when it will proceed slowly to Los Angeles and early tomorrow morning will be welcomed into the Santa Fe freight yards.

The Mayor wants to have the American flag flying from every public and private building in the city and to make the reception of the old "Fighting Seventh" memorable in the lives of the heroic boys. Among those who will meet the train at San Bernardino will be representatives of the Associated War Committees of Pasadena and will take a supply of Pasadena oranges and other gifts.

Gen. members of the Retail Dry Goods' Association will close their stores between 11 and 1 o'clock tomorrow to enable their employees to see the parade.

Boy Scouts, who will assist in the palm arch features of the pageant, and in flower-strewing, are to assemble in uniform at 8:20 a. m. tomorrow at Normal Hill Center, Fifth and Hope streets.

The League of Community Interest, in charge of the celebration, will supply identification badges to immediate relatives of the soldiers to enable them to pass the military lines.

Reoccurring Camp, Sons of Veterans, has appointed the entire membership as a Reception Committee to meet the soldiers at the station. Some of the members of the camp are with the One Hundred and Sixtieth.

Germans Made to Help Clinch Their Own Defeat in War.

At the Flying Circus Put on by Uncle Sam in Hollywood Yesterday.

THINKS NINE THOUSAND A YEAR IS "SUPPORT."

NEW YORK PROMOTER, ON STAND, SAYS HE PROVIDED FOR HIS WIFE.

George Russell Palmer, New York promoter, who, in one enterprise cleaned up $250,000 and was closing a $15,000,000 deal in London when the war broke out, took the stand in Judge York's court yesterday to show that he not only did not desert his wife, Josephine B. Palmer, but that he had liberally provided for her.

Mrs. Palmer is suing for divorce on the ground of desertion and non-support. She is the daughter of a wealthy and socially prominent New Orleans woman, brought up in the lap of luxury. She received from Mr. Palmer in two years $17,500, out of which she paid her expenses at a Pasadena sanatorium, bought clothing and other articles.

She alleged in a former pleading that her husband was at one time manager for Theda Bara, the film vamp. Mr. Russell denied this. Yesterday Mr. Palmer, in recounting his stay in this city, said in reply to questions by Theodore B. Dockweiler, counsel for Mrs. Palmer, that he had a client here.

"Who was that client?" asked Mr. Dockweiler. "Miss Theda Bara. I advised her in a stock and bond investment," was the reply.

He further stated that he never received a penny from her for his advice. He also declared that he owed $160,000 to friends in Mobile, Ala., but added, "They are not worrying about it."

The case will be concluded today.

CHARGE THAT FORCED MARRIAGE WAS FALSE.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD BRIDE IN AFFIDAVIT SEEKS TO RIGHT A WRONG.

A remarkable affidavit was filed yesterday, apparently dictated through remorse, and with the hope of righting a wrong. The author is Mrs. Mary Sims, 17 years old, who married George W. Sims on November 20, 1915, after Mr. Sims had been arrested charged with contributing to the girl's delinquency.

The affidavit was filed in connection with a suit to annul the marriage brought by Mrs. Esther Sims, Mrs. Sims' mother. Mrs. Sims, the bride, declares that the statements she made were false. As the result of associating with a married man, the girl is alleged to have been charged with the penitentiary unless he married the girl, then Miss Mary McNally.

Col. Bradbury joined the first officers' training school at the Presidio, and as a captain was sent to Camp Lewis, from which place he went overseas with the Ninety-first Division. Upon his arrival in France he was made adjutant of the "Three Hundred and Sixty-second Infantry."

At Gexes, September 23, 1918, he was so severely wounded that his life was endangered for six weeks. Subsequently, he was cited for valiant service and was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross. Since then he has been made first major and then a colonel. His wife resides at Tacoma.

LAFAYETTE SOCIETY MEETS. The Lafayette Society of California held a luncheon at the Alexandria yesterday. Orra E. Monette, president of the society, presiding.

The opening address was by the president, followed by Edward T. Harden and Gen. C. H. Whipple. About one-third of the members were present.

SAYS HE IS GUILTY. Vincente Valdez, charged with robbing Mrs. Ida Goodman, December 22 last, of a gold watch, two gold rings and $48 in cash, withdrew his plea of not guilty in Judge Willie's court yesterday, and entered a plea of guilty. He will be sentenced this morning.

HUNDRED MILLIONS IS WOMEN'S GOAL.

INITIAL MEETING OF VICTORY LOAN CAMPAIGN IS TO BE HELD HERE TUESDAY.

With approximately 2000 women of Los Angeles city and county expected to be present, the woman's campaign for the Victory Liberty Loan will be opened, Tuesday morning, with a mass meeting at the Majestic Theater. All women Victory Liberty Loan workers are urged to be present at 10 a. m., when the meeting, presided over by Mrs. J. T. Anderson, city chairman, will be called to order.

Mrs. A. S. Baldwin, chairman of the Woman's Committee for the Twelfth Federal Reserve District, and Mrs. E. R. Brainerd, State chairman of the Woman's Committee, will be present and will speak, outlining the plans for the campaign. The women of California will work toward a goal of $160,000,000. This mark was set for California women in the last campaign, but because of the handicap caused by the influenza epidemic, they only sold $75,000,000 worth of bonds. This time, according to leaders of the Campaign Committee, they intend to make their mark.

In order to stimulate interest in the campaign, and to closely coordinate the work of the entire State, Mrs. Brainerd will call a conference of chairmen of all counties in California, probably for the first week of the drive, in Los Angeles.

BILLERMAN IS HELD.

Man Who Came from Cuba Must Answer Two Charges.

George W. Billerman, accused of forgery and obtaining money under false pretenses, was held to answer on both charges yesterday by Justice Palmer. Billerman recently came from Havana, Cuba, after a vain fight to gain his liberty on a writ of habeas corpus, and gave himself up.

It is alleged that he forged the name of E. G. Bennett, a commercial agent of the customs service, to a check for $2526, given by Herbert R. Schaaf, a local broker. The check was meant to pay supposed duty on a string of race horses then owned by Billerman. It is also alleged that Billerman obtained $4500 from Mr. Schaaf as a loan on representations that he owned the string of race horses free and clear. Harry A. Morris of San Diego testified that the horses claimed by Billerman had been given

AERIAL CIRCUS THRILLS CITY.

First Guns of Victory Loan Fired in Battle.

Eighteen Planes Take Part in Big Spectacle.

Huns Defeated in Realistic Exhibition.

BY WILLIAM M. HENRY.

The roar of Hun airplane motors, the long drive of two mean-looking Fokkers on three American two-seaters, the whizzing of the Yank planes fell into a milling train in self-defense, and the dramatic entrance into the fight of a Spad and an S. E. 5 which sent the Huns spinning out of control, gave Los Angeles its first glimpse of an air combat yesterday, when Uncle Sam's aerial circus made its first stop here on a thirty-day, 4349-mile tour in the interest of the Victory Loan.

This aerial sham battle took place over Hollywood, capital of the land of make-believe, and 20,000 creaky necks and pairs of strained eyes today will testify that Maj. Carl Spatz and his assistants in charge of this trainload of aerial acrobats have all the dramatic instincts of a D. W. Griffith or a Cecil B. de Mille.

Sending a special train with eighteen battle planes, fifty mechanics and fourteen drivers, on a thirty-day, 4349-mile tour over the entire West, is a man-sized job, but the aerial circus went off with the same smooth precision that characterizes circuses of the canvas-top variety, coming in with the dawn, showing during the day and vanishing with the sunset.

By 1:30, the time set for the opening of the performance, a huge crowd had completely surrounded the Cecil B. de Mille field at La Brea and Melrose avenues, and spread over the open fields in all directions, completely choking the roads to and from the airfield with the exception of the single artery of travel, which was the road to the field itself.

Seven planes, three fantastically-colored Curtiss Hispanos, two motley and freckled German Fokkers, a long-nosed S. E. 5 and a blunt, tail-heavy Spad were lined up along the north side of the field, and while the crowd was still gathering two Liberty-motored "Lafayette" fighters which had flown up from Rockwell Field circled the place inquisitively and then dropped down a corner.

At 2 o'clock the motors were started out, and soon Lieut. C. P. McCain, Cavanshugh and Wright, off in their big two-seater Curtiss ships. A few seconds later Lieut. H. W. Folmer in one of the Fokkers threaded into the sky, followed in close succession by Lieut. C. T. Atkins in an S. E. 5, Lieut. C. G. W. Puryear in the other Fokker. After circling for height, the three

DISAPPOINTED.
The Times confesses its disappointment. It had been told by sincere and earnest men that the abolition of the cocktail would eliminate vice from Los Angeles.

CHEERFUL GIVERS.
Americans are asked to contribute to so many and such varied causes that almost any minute they may expect a committee soliciting for the fund to present a loving cup to the Kaiser.

UNDER THE SEA.
If the League of Nations is to make impossible the use of the submarine in warfare, what great importance can accrue in establishing a governmental submarine base at Los Angeles Harbor? Can a value of the submarine in peaceful commerce be demonstrated, or is it only a sinister agency of war?

MAKING CAPITAL.
The action of the New Jersey Legislature in enabling Atlantic City to acquire land and buildings for the League of Nations may be significant. Has our distinguished President perfected a coup—or whatever it is in French—whereby the capital of the world shall be located within the borders of his own State?

FOR THE LIONS.
If the Kaiser is to be passed over to Belgium for trial we can see his finish. He would last about as long as a straw hat in a Nebraska cyclone. It would be mighty hard to find an unprejudiced jury in Belgium, yet precedent can find no fault in an offender being tried at the scene of the crime. Let Belgium have him.

BEFORE AND AFTER.
At a recent auction sale the original of Edgar Allan Poe's "Tamerlane" was sold to a wealthy collector for $11,600. This was $11,500 and some odd dollars more than Poe received for it in his lifetime. All of which shows that fortunes and great writers should put their creations away to be sold after they are dead. Poe never jingled much over $5 in his pocket at one time during his brief but brilliant career, yet a mint of money has been represented by his writings since he passed away.

CAMERA BROKE.
With three hundred soldier photographers on assignment at the Peace Conference some of them must have caught an eminent statesman in the Presidential pajamas. The office statistician estimates that up to date 2217 miles of film have been used in reproducing the amiable faces of our noble executives and his worthy spouses. And as the historians say, the end is not yet. It was thought that Col. Roosevelt had a wonderful record for facing the dead-end camera, but it was a mere handful of dried berries compared with the facial bravery of our present great Chief.

PASSING THE BIER.
Regulation funeral services over John Barleycorn were held on the Sabbath in a big auditorium at Newark and thousands attended. The only official mourner present was a woman in black to represent New Jersey—the only State which refused to ratify the prohibition amendment. Women arrayed in white represented the other States, and only sheafs of cornstalk and barley crossed the aisle in which a ten gallon demijohn silently reposed. An impressive but grimly humorous funeral ovation was delivered, but it must have been more humorous when the leaders passed the bier—as the dispatches said they did.

JAIL AND PROHIBITION.
The people of Birmingham, Ala., built a $100,000 jail in the center of a beautiful twenty-acre tract. It was the handsomest prison in the South, but it had to shut down on account of business—or rather lack of business. In its flourishing days it always had a couple of hundred prisoners, but latterly it only had a dozen or two of inmates, and they were mainly aged colored women who couldn't do enough work to earn their keep. Finally they were turned loose and the institution shut down. Now it has been tendered to the government as a reclamation hospital. The people blame the slump in the patronage of their jail on prohibition. When they had the open saloon the jail was always comfortably filled with guests, but with the closed house parlor business at the jail began to fall off and now the institution is not even worthy of the hands of the sheriff. Some of the temperance people are disposed to gloat over their work in blotting out one of the notable industries of the place. They insist that a full jail is not the best sort of an advertisement for a town. It all depends on the point of view, for on the other hand there are those who assert that the jail is empty because no attempt is made to punish the grand army of bootleggers. Anyhow, there is a perfectly lovely jail which the government may have for a hospital if it wishes.

PROGRESS TOWARD PEACE.

The latest dispatches from the Peace Conference at Paris are decidedly reassuring. At last definite conclusions have been reached, decisive steps taken, obstacles surmounted. The results of the long deliberations are being made known to the world—the means by which they were achieved are of minor importance.

The three most perplexing difficulties before the conference have been dissolved. In adjusting the knotty point of the German indemnities, to be paid as reparation for war damages inflicted, the Big Four have adopted a sensible middle course. To have overwhelmed Germany with an immediate and irredeemable debt would have been fatal to the conclusion of a satisfactory peace treaty and made collections impossible. To have abandoned the claims of the victims of Prussian aggression for the sake of hurrying up a pact would have been unfair to the people who suffered. By demanding a sum within the capacity of Germany to pay as an initial indemnity, and leaving the assessment of the remaining damages for a commission, the conference has skillfully steered between two shoals. Germany can and will pay up. It is a case of "ante or quit."

Another obstinate deadlock, that over the Saar Valley and the Rhine frontier, has apparently been removed. If the present agreement holds, France will obtain control of the Saar mines and Germany will be able to remove all fortifications from the left bank of the Rhine; but there will be no transference of German people to foreign governments nor the consequent formation of another Alsace-Lorraine problem. Again the matter of trying the ex-Kaiser for the crime of launching the world war has been settled according to American principles of jurisdiction. There will be no international court to create a dubious precedent; but Belgium, the first innocent sufferer from an unprovoked attack, will be left to pass judgment on the prime instigator.

Carping and croaking and hinting pessimistically at the failure of the Allied statesmen to connect at the peace table will now subside; from behind the veil of official secrecy that partially hid the long deliberations specific results have at last reached the public. And these prove that the men to whom everyone is looking for world restoration have done their work faithfully and well.

Perhaps the great outstanding fact brought out by the recent agreements is the mighty role played by President Wilson. He has proven the most potent influence in the Peace Conference. His dominating personality, backed by the power and prestige of the American people, was beyond doubt the force that finally made the wheels go round and so enabled the machinery to produce the goods. The victory has been one for President Wilson and through him, of course, for the nation that made him possible.

The Times, while admitting that the President was the main cause of the sudden coming together of rival interests among the Allies, does not place much emphasis on the hurry-up of the George Washington. Possibly it had some effect, and having in it the elements of the dramatic and the sensational, naturally the correspondents featured it. For, we must confess, the late details given out about the Paris conference were somewhat dull. The most likely solution of the incident is that the President concluded that the Paris salon was practically finished and so sent a belated call to his carriage. Like the soldier, he, too, no doubt is anxious to get home again.

We may, therefore, congratulate ourselves that the end is at last in sight. As was inevitable at the peace table, there was a tendency to spend too much time on detail, always an unprofitable proceeding when the settling of the fundamental issues requires the bigger and broader view. The Big Four, spurred to it by the resolute attitude of President Wilson, evidently decided on swifter action and the elimination of all not immediately necessary details. From this time on, day after day, we may expect to hear of further definite conclusions.

A DIRTY DEAL.
"Private property shall not be taken or damaged for public use without just compensation having first been made to, or paid into court for, the owner." So reads Sec. 14, Art. 1 of the Constitution of California. In the face of such an inhibition the uninitiated will wonder how the State Reclamation Board could cause to be built a levee that has damaged 25,000 acres of highly-cultivated land to the extent of millions of dollars and rendered it almost valueless, without giving some measure of compensation to the owners thereof. But for the high-salaried engineers and attorneys, representing alike the Armour interests and the State Reclamation Board in the Sacramento River valley, the evasion was simple. That levee was not constructed for public use; the adjacent property was damaged for the use and protection of private interests, in which the Armour holdings largely predominated. In State Reclamation District 1500, if the Constitution had specified private as well as public use the deal could not have been consummated. Of course the framers of that section of the Constitution never expected that an attempt would be made to damage the property of one section of a community for the private use and profit of another section.

Special dispatches to The Times from Sacramento have related how half of the best farming section of Butte county was flooded last winter, hundreds of people were driven from their homes and property losses totaling many millions of dollars inflicted by reason of a levee erected around 50,000 acres of land owned by the Armour and affiliated interests in the Butte basin. The property protected was swamp and overflow land, donated to the State as such by the Federal government and sold by the State to private interests; the property flooded and destroyed is land that had never been reclaimed, that was never before flooded and that was secured from the government many years ago by settlers as homestead claims. A Butte county grand jury has found that the flood was occasioned by the acts of the State Reclamation Board. The grand jury recommended the removal of the State board; but that affords no relief to the owners of the flooded lands. Such a condition of affairs is declared by Superior Judge Mahon of Butte county, to whom the grand jury reported, to be unprecedented in the history of the country.

Government Control.

YOU SEE, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, I HAVE THE SUBJECT COMPLETELY UNDER MY CONTROL!

But Judge Mahon himself says that the deal was so manipulated through the Legislature and the Reclamation Board that no judicial offense has been committed, so that the Armour interests and their associates (whose clean-up the judge estimates at $10,000,000) are absolved from legal responsibility for the damages inflicted. The disclosures show that State Insurance Commissioner Al McCabe and one Tarpe, an employee of the State Reclamation Board, are owners of valuable holdings containing more than 1000 acres in the Butte basin, and that they received on the day they made the purchase a check of $20,000 from the State Reclamation Board for an easement for right of way for a by-pass over the property.

It will be recalled that McCabe was the administration whip when the bill was put through the 1913 Legislature removing the by-pass location from the center of Butte basin, where it had been located by United States government engineers and confirmed by the 1911 Legislature, to high ground to the east of the basin. This removal made the by-pass levee a bulwark on the rim of the Armour holdings in place of cutting the holdings in twain; and it is alleged that this relocation of the by-pass on high ground occasioned last winter's flood damage. Naturally, the owners of the ruined property have been loud in their protests. They brought suit to enjoin the construction of the Armour levees. Successful in the Superior Courts, they were reversed by the State Supreme Court on the ground that the location of the by-pass was made by the State Legislature and was not subject to court review. It was not until the winter floods came, ruining the adjacent property while all the Armour holdings were snug and dry back of the great Armour levee, that public interest was attracted to the deal.

Further Sacramento dispatches relate that a "compromise" bill is now on its way through the Legislature which provides that the State shall appropriate $3,000,000 to build levees and repair the damage done. It is admitted that there would be no necessity for this expenditure if the Armour levee had not been built. But now comes the most surprising thing. Two-thirds of that $3,000,000 is to go to build levees to protect the Butte county farmers and one-third to pay the Armour interests for the levees that caused the flood.

That the Butte county farmers have been outraged and their property almost ruined is undeniable. For that loss the State is responsible, because it is responsible for the acts of its agents, a boss-controlled Legislature and a Reclamation Board whose chairman was heavily interested in Butte county property. If the State has allowed its agents to inflict damages that $2,000,000 will be required to repair, the State must not shrink from that reparation. But how about the one million in tribute to the Armour and associated interests? Has the State government of California fallen so low that we must pay that one-million-dollar tribute before we can right an undeniable wrong?

Responsibility for the outrage was placed by the grand jury on the Armour interests and the Reclamation Board. The grand jury could not determine just who were the chief beneficiaries. The Butte Basin Company owns 50,000 acres of land behind the Armour levee. It is controlled by the Armours, who are said to own 65 per cent. of the stock. But it is a corporation and the names of the other owners of stock are carefully concealed. It is a matter of common report in Sacramento and elsewhere that a number of politicians and millionaires prominent in Progressive politics in 1913 are or have been owners of large blocks of that stock. The transactions back of that curtain known as the Butte Basin Company have not yet been revealed. This much is known. That 50,000 acres of land was secured at an average cost of not more than $20 an acre; since the by-pass levee was built the price has advanced to $350 an acre, and the State is now asked to make a reimbursement of about $1,000,000 to those who paid for the levee. At the same time, land valued at $400 an acre before the levee was built is now an inland lake, devoted to the culture of wild ducks and propagation of tulips. Such is the sordid story of the transactions and manipulations of a single one of the Forty-Fat Commissions.

A FIRST-CLASS FIGHTER.

The grand fleet of Great Britain has dispersed and Vice-Admiral Sir David Beatty has hailed down his flag as commander-in-chief. Never, however, will the glory of that grand fleet fade nor will the name of its great chief be forgotten. He is a valiant sea dog, worthy to rank along with Nelson, Drake and Frobenius.

Beatty was, perhaps, the British naval hero of the war. Lord Fisher early ran afoul of Winston Churchill. Viscount Jellicoe somehow or other fell short of the great, perhaps too great, expectations formed of him. But Beatty chased the Germans into Heligoland right early in the war; his were the honors in the battle of Jutland; and he received the surrender of the German high sea fleet.

No more humiliating sight has ever been seen on the sea than that of November 21, 1918, when thirteen German battleships and battle cruisers, six light cruisers and forty-nine destroyers, with attendant submarines, were meekly turned over to Admiral Beatty's grand fleet and the five American battleships which made up that fleet's sixth battle squadron. "Men," said the admiral to his crew on the Queen Elizabeth, "I always told you they'd come out on a piece of string." Beatty had proved himself a first-class fighter and this abject surrender by the enemy filled him with disgust. It was Beatty who, at Jutland, did not hesitate to bring his lightly-armored cruisers under the fire of the much-more-heavily-protected battleships of the foe in his determination to hold the enemy till hellfire could come up with his dreadnaughts and get into action, an action from which the foe fled.

THE COMFORTERS.

When I crept over the hill, broken with tears,
When I crouched down on the grass, dumb in despair,
I heard the soft croon of the wind bend to my ears
I felt the light kiss of the wind touching my hair.

When I stood alone on the height my sorrow did speak,
As I went down the hill I cried and I cried,
The soft little hands of the rain stroking my cheek,
The kind little feet of the rain ran by my side.

When I went to thy grave, broken with tears,
When I crouched down in the grass, dumb in despair,
I heard the sweet croon of the wind soft in my ears,
I felt the kind lips of the wind touching my hair.

When I stood lone by thy cross sorrow did speak,
When I went down the long hill I cried and I cried,
The soft little hands of the rain stroking my cheek,
The kind little feet of the rain ran by my side.

Scotch Spirit.

William MacDonald of Philadelphia tells the Public Ledger that Scotch history is full of inspiration because Scotland never was conquered, and that Americans should be better acquainted with it. The Scotch are warrently proud of their history, but they devote more money to advertising their whisky. —[Louisville Courier-Journal.]

LIFE, NEWSPAPERS, JOY.

BY HARRY WILLIAMS.
The Times War Correspondent.

One of the best things which our men will bring back from "over there" is the ability to appreciate the small things of life.

They found that those things, which at home seem insignificant, but as a whole so largely make up life and which they accepted here as a matter of course, to be almost vital to existence as they know it. One who has been over there could fill a volume with the little things which became big and left a terrible void in their absence. We learned to regard the simplest, most prosaic things as luxuries.

For instance, it was a real boon to be warm, while a dry spot to sleep in under the stars and a pair of dry blankets was a greater luxury than the prize suite at the Ritz or Savoy in ordinary times. Coming out of battle in which many had fallen, and he himself had been grazed by death a thousand times, the soldier finds life itself the greatest thing under heaven.

Just to be permitted to live and breathe God's fresh air seems to the man who has been under fire the ultimate of all happiness. He is rich or poor, beyond this he desires nothing. Just sleep and rest! Providence, he feels, never conferred greater blessings or sweeter portions on man than these. In those moments there is no poverty. Peeling the pulse of warm life within, he feels himself rich in the most priceless of possessions. Sometimes I think that only those who have passed through "the valley of the shadow" fully appreciate the great privilege of living, the real joy of being alive. Otherwise there would be less unrest in the world. This is a big earth, with countless fertile acres—big enough for everybody to scratch a living out of it. And amidst this bounty we have been given life, something that riches may take away from, but not add to. After all, earth is not so far removed from heaven if we but look about us.

A lot of us didn't realize this before, but we know it now, and we can't have much patience with the grumblers and growlers—especially those who growl and grumble in America, the most favored of lands. More than two million Americans now know the conditions under which Europeans live even in normal times, know that America offers more in a year than Europe does in a lifetime. I am going to give you a tip. It will be unhealthy for anybody to lift up his voice against the good old United States in range of any of our returned soldiers.

A newspaper can hardly be listed as one of the little things of life, but we didn't know that they're the very essence of existence until we saw them away from them.

Now take The Times, for instance. It is one of the great newspapers of the world. I do not say this because of its size, but because of its content. I found it one of the few newspapers with an international reputation. In Chicago, New York, London and Paris it is the same. They have it. The "Times" credentials seemed to be the key to anything, whether the iron doors of a munition factory or the gates of a palace.

But to realize the full worth of a

DROLL STORIES.

Inopportuna.

A good story is told of a temperance meeting held in a well-known town in the north of Ireland. The Mayor and Aldermen had consented to attend in their robes and, as it happened, they were late in arriving, and to keep things going the audience started singing "Hail to the King for an Am Comin'." But it was distinctly unfortunate that just as the Mayor entered at the head of the imposing civic procession the congregation happened to be singing the lines, "The mighty host advancing, Satan leading on!" —[Chicago News.]

The More Natural Pose.

As a birthday present to his wife, Trotter decided on a photograph of himself and their only son, Algernon, aged 24. Father paid, of course. Behind them at the photographer's, Algy seated stiffly in a chair, his father standing behind him at attention. "I think," smiled the photographer, "it would look more natural if you put your hand on your son's shoulder."

"On the contrary," said Trotter, "to be really natural, Algy should have his hand in my pocket!" —[Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.]

Wanted a Full Complement.

Charley was considered the dandy of the town and when he came home from a visit to the city he was supposed to set forth the latest fashions in performance as well as in attire. Upon the occasion of one such visit he went into a shop to look at gloves. He was shown several pairs, but astonished the shopkeeper by saying: "But I want three."

"But me! Three pairs?" "Oh, no; three gloves." "Nobody can wear more than two." "I know that; most on 'em only wears one and wabbles the other, but I want three—to wear and one to wabble." —[Chicago News.]

Couldn't Stump Him.

He was a three-day leave man having his first sight of Paris and had dropped into the Y.M.C.A. canteen for something to eat. There's a waiting line at the egg counter there and every man gets a numbered check to show just where he stands in the line. But he didn't know that.

"Thirty-nine—fried," called one of the buddies ahead of him in the line. "Thirty-nine—fried," came the next. "He'd a long breath." "I dunno whether I can do it or not," he called. "But no Paris Vain is going to get ahead of men. You

City Clerk Wilde today will file his certification of such candidates for municipal offices as have proposed petitions that check up the required 500 qualified signatures. A force of clerks worked on these pe-be completed this morning. The did not contain sufficient qualified names, and they have filed supplelast night that it is now apparent that all of the candidates who filed petitions will qualify. They have five days, however, after his certitions, if necessary.

NOTED VENTURA
MAN DIES HERE.George G. Crane was Pioneer Horticulturist.Gave Walnut Industry of the State Big Help.Services to be Held Tomorrow at Santa Paula.George G. Crane, a pioneer horticulturist of Ventura county, died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Lewis W. Andrews, 274 Andrews boulevard, this city, yesterday morning, at the age of 84.
Mr. Crane, who was one of the early settlers of California, contributed materially to its upbuilding.
Born in Sharon, Medina county, O.,
Mr. Crane came to Marysville, this State, in 1855, where he was engaged for several years with his uncle, George G. Briggs, in the planting of a number of large orchards near Marysville, at Orville and near Knight's Landing.
Subsequently he spent a number of years in the East, but again returned to California in 1882, to make his permanent home in Ventura county, where he became greatly interested in the possibilities offered by the then infant industry of growing soft-shelled walnuts. After having made a thorough investigation,
Mr. Crane planted upwards of 100 acres to the best variety of walnuts that had been developed. The wisdom of his judgment was demonstrated by the magnificent grove near Safford, which is now well known in the community.Mr. Crane had been a prominent figure in the life and growth of Ventura county for upwards of thirty-five years, and was an early proponent of the association plan of handling and marketing fruits and nuts, and assisted in the organization of the Safford Walnut Growers' Association and later of the Mugu Citrus Association. He was also interested in the Peoples Lamber Company and in the upbuilding of other substantial industries of that section.Mr. Crane leaves two daughters, Mrs. E. E. Huntley of Santa Paula and Mrs. Lewis W. Andrews of Los Angeles.Services will be held at the Universalist Church of Santa Paula tomorrow at 2:30 p.m.IMPROVEMENT WORK

FOR SAN PASQUAL BRIDGE.

The city engineer was instructed by the City Council yesterday to make a preliminary estimate of constructing a bridge at San Pasqual avenue over the Arroyo Seco, as petitioned for by the Garvanza Improvement Association, to provide a direct route from Los Angeles to the famous Bushy garden in MANY CHILDREN AIDED.

Treasurer of French Fatherless Fund Tells of Work Done.

The sum of $228,000 has so far been collected in Los Angeles and Southern California for the Fatherless Children of France, according to a report made yesterday by Treasurer George Fueson to E. G. Judah, chairman of the War Donation Bureau, State Committee on Readjustment.

The amount, which represents the gross receipts, has been remitted through J. P. Morgan & Co., and has allowed the support of nearly 4000 children. The letter says:

"These reliefs are given solely to those who are in destitute circumstances, and whose mothers are unable to take care of them. The relief is given in the form of clothing, food, and shelter, and is given to the children of French soldiers who were killed in the war."

PROTECT HEIRS, GIVE PENSIONS.

Draw up Plan of Fund for Police, Firemen.

Council Committee Proposes Needed Amendments.

Reasonable Provision Made for Public Servants.

After many similar efforts in the past, a comprehensive program for the creation of adequate provisions for the widows and children of police and fire department members who lose their lives or health while on duty, and for the retirement of the men after long terms of service, is now before the Public Welfare Committee of the City Council. Favorable action, according to the men in touch with the situation, is expected some time next week.

That the undivided support of the business interests and the general public is behind the effort to protect the firemen and policemen, is the declaration of the framers of the program, who propose a group of amendments to the present inadequate pension ordinances. While the extra dangers assumed by members of the police and fire departments in their work make the amendments absolutely desirable from the humanitarian point of view, the terms of the ordinance and the plan by which it is proposed to create the fund are such as to make its financing comparatively easy, they point out.

PLAN FOR PENSIONS.

As amended, the new ordinance will provide that any man who serves for more than twenty years in either department may be retired by the Pension Fund Commission. In the event of death following retirement, the widow or children of the pensioner shall be paid a sum equal to one-half of the salary received at the time of retirement. Under this provision the pension will be paid until the death of the widow or until the youngest child reaches the age of 21.

Another amended section calls for a half-pension for men who become physically disabled while following their hazardous occupations or for any other disability received in the course of duty which renders retirement from duty necessary. Payments to the heirs of men who die from accidents or other causes traceable to the result of duties performed, also will be provided for under the amendments. Another feature is a section providing temporary relief for dependent parents of the men in cases where the commission deems such action necessary.

WAY TO CREATE FUND.

The fund is to be created by the Budget Committee setting aside 2½ per cent of the total of estimated salaries of the members of these departments who are entitled to pensions as outlined in the amendments, by the addition of contributions and donations to the police and fire departments, by all proceeds from the sale of undervalued property and by the turning into the fund of all fines imposed upon members for violation of department regulations. Councilmen Mallard Olsen and Cleveland of the Finance Committee and Councilmen Cleveland, True and Orin of the Public Welfare Committee, are interested in the amendments. The adoption of these amendments, the supporters say, will establish for the first time a dignified and reasonable provision for the dependents of men who die risk their lives in the dangerous lines of public service.
